Athletic Trainer

What do you want to be when you grow up?

Athletic Trainers work with athletes by helping them stay in shape or preventing an injury. Athletic trainers care for cuts, broken bones, and many other types of injuries.

For more information visit:
What do you want to be when you grow up?

A physician is a person who practices medicine. You would go see a physician if you are feeling ill, need medical advice or healing, or even check-ups. Physicians give medical treatment and may prescribe a prescription to help you feel better and get better.

For more information visit:
Physical Therapist

What do you want to be when you grow up?

A physical therapist is a doctor who helps people recover from an injury. They help make them stronger by having them jump ropes, lift weights, or even help them walk again.

For more information visit:
What do you want to be when you grow up?

Pharmacist

A pharmacist is a doctor who gives people medicine when they are ill, which should help them feel better. They inform patients about the medicine, what the side effects are, and how much to take.
Are you ready?

Teen care
Suicide
Ivy
Infant
Birth
Health
Tall
Advice
Diag
Disease
Hospital

Healthcare
Rural health
Edu/workforce

Unscramble the words.

Pediatrician

What do you want to be when you grow up?

Pediatricians are doctors who help kids and babies feel better when they are sick. They give them check-ups to make sure that they are healthy and may give medicine to help them feel better.

For more information visit:
What do you want to be when you grow up?

Paramedics drive people who are sick to the hospital. They can care for them in the ambulance on the way to the hospital until they are in the care of the doctors.

For more information visit:
Optometrist

What do you want to be when you grow up?

An optometrist is a doctor who provides vision care. Optometrists examine people’s eyes and identify vision problems. They also test patients for vision accuracy and prescribe glasses or contact lenses.

For more information visit:
Are you reading?

Occupational Therapy

What do you want to be when you grow up?

Occupational therapists help people with daily living skills such as bathing, eating, and dressing. They help people become stronger and be able to do tasks on their own.

For more information visit:
A nurse is a person who cares for people who are sick or disabled. The nurse may check the patient before the doctor sees them. They may check the ears, throat, eyes, or blood pressure.

For more information visit:
Dietitian/Nutritionist

What do you want to be when you grow up?

A dietician/nutritionist is a person who studies the food that people eat. They also work on keeping people healthy. They try to get people to eat healthy foods such as fruits and vegetables instead of junk foods.

For more information visit:
Dentist

What do you want to be when you grow up?

Dentists are people who keep people’s teeth healthy. They clean, brush, and floss people’s teeth to prevent cavities. They want people to brush and floss their teeth everyday to keep their teeth healthy.

For more information visit:
Cardiovascular Technologist

What do you want to be when you grow up?

Cardiovascular technologists help doctors identify and treat heart and blood vessel problems. They conduct tests on the heart that measure its rate, sound of the valves, and how the system is working.

For more information visit:
Radiation Technologist

What do you want to be when you grow up?

Radiation technologists take x-rays of people’s bodies. The x-ray allows the doctor to see inside the patient’s body. They can see if anything is not functioning right.

For more information visit: